

SVS Job Application Questionnaire For Educators

Please submit your responses to the following prompts to info@springvalleyschool.org along with your resumé and cover letter indicating the position to which you are applying.

1. Angry Parent Email:

You receive this email from a parent/guardian of one of your students:

"You have had my child in class for a semester and I see absolutely no academic progress being made. This is unacceptable! I look forward to hearing from you today about how you are going to fix this." Write an email response to the student's parent/guardian. Then, explain any next steps that you would take.

2. Teaching LD Students:

How would teaching students who learn differently be unique for you compared to teaching other populations of students?

3. Students Wanting More Challenge:

A student in your class who is generally having success in meeting the learning expectations expresses a desire for more challenge. How would you address this request?
